Bplus POS

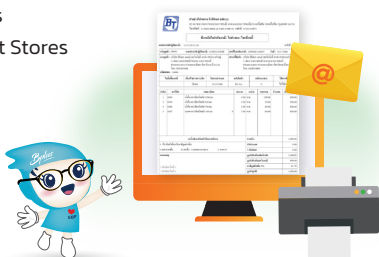

Ready-made Retail and Wholesale Management Software

Assisting in-store sales by ensuring accurate and swift transactions, Bplus POS significantly enhances the efficiency of store management. It operates automatically, covering sales plans, promotions, price reductions, exchange promotions, freebies, and the distribution of e-coupons. The system allows for the segmentation of member privileges according to types, enabling members to accumulate and redeem points automatically. This process aids cashiers in establishing relationships with customers, increasing sales opportunities. For instance, when customers come to pay, cashiers can inform them of ongoing promotions, such as discounts on specific items based on the quantity purchased. The system also generates summarized reports on cashier behavior, analyzes campaign effectiveness, and provides a plethora of other detailed reports for managerial insights.

Inventory checking is easy – knowing what's remaining, what needs to be ordered, and which items need replenishing.

Eliminate the problem of holding inventory until it overflows due to slow sales, causing capital to be tied up. Bplus also helps control the inventory of both the main office and branches. It seamlessly integrates with the back-office accounting system, Bplus ERP, instantly connecting with tools for both offline and online inventory counting, providing flexibility in usage. This efficient approach reduces working time, yielding immediate results in product management, ordering, and replenishment, ensuring the highest level of effectiveness.

Bplus POS manages everything.

It assists with both front-end store operations and comprehensive product management, making it a worthwhile investment.

It works for businesses of all sizes, whether small, large, single-location, or multi-branch establishments, including franchise stores.

Bplus POS is an indispensable tool for retail and wholesale businesses.

Number 1 assistant to the store owner, suitable for business of all sizes.

Supports Various Product Sales:

- Fast sales with retail prices per piece; the wholesale program automatically calculates prices from packs, boxes, or crates. Simply scan the barcode or enter the product code from the keyboard.
- Supports the sale of different product types: by length, and weight, e.g. cutting and selling fabrics by length, and weighing liquids using a scale.
- Aids in selling fresh food by managing product weights effectively, and supporting sales through scales that print barcodes in 13- or 18-digit formats.
- Supports products that need to be sold with a unique identifier (Serial Number), such as electrical appliances, mobile phones, and more.
- Supports the sale of products bundled together as sets, such as New Year gift baskets, religious ceremony sets, or paired promotions. It can record details of the components in a set for efficient stock management and accurate cost calculations.
- Aids in barcode printing for products without barcodes, self-assembled products, and local products. This ensures efficient product control and facilitates accurate and speedy sales processes.

Assists in Payment Processing and Ensures Discount Application

- Convenient for cashiers and customers, accepting payments in cash, credit cards, checks, vouchers, and gift cards. If the sales total meets the specified criteria or if customers purchase all items as part of a promotional offer, the system can automatically generate and print e-coupons (optional) at the end of the receipt.
- Cashless payment options are available through QR Prompt Pay (Dynamic QR Code), allowing customers to pay conveniently by scanning the POS screen. This eliminates concerns about change and avoids issues with customers pressing the wrong payment option.
- Accepts currencies other than Thai Baht and can handle multiple currencies in a single receipt. The system automatically calculates change based on the specified exchange rates.

No. 1 assistant to the store owner, increasing sales opportunities beyond competitors, reducing errors, and enabling automatic calculations:

- Golden Minutes / Hot Prices
- Campaigns / Promotions
 - Discounts and free items for purchasing in bulk
 - Gifts for reaching a specified purchase value
 - Wholesale prices for purchasing a complete set of specific combinations
- Evaluate the profitability of promotions and determine if they result in profit or loss.
- Special prices/campaigns exclusively for members.
- Various tools and incentives to boost sales.

Bplus POS Online

Suitable for businesses that need real-time inventory balance. It ensures uninterrupted sales even if there are network or LAN issues between the office and POS machines. When the network or LAN is restored, the program automatically manages the transactions that occurred during the offline period. Users can instantly check the current and accurate inventory levels.

Membership Program – Accumulate and Redeem Points Online

Maintain customer loyalty and encourage repeat purchases, leading to sustainable sales and continuous profitability.

Building strong relationships with customers through a membership system is a current marketing strategy that various stores aim to implement. However, how to stand out from the competition and capture customer interest, starting from providing membership discounts to accumulating and redeeming points, requires substantial organizational resources. Therefore, Bplus has designed tools to support this.

- Bplus Member Reward Online: An online program that calculates member points.
- Bplus Redeem: An automated redemption program that distributes cash vouchers and product discounts.

Replenishment Automatic Program

For businesses engaged in wholesale and retail with branches, storefronts, and separate sales areas from the warehouse, the need to replenish products to the sales area for distribution is crucial. However, each step of this process is time-consuming and requires careful attention to detail coupled with experience, making it susceptible to human errors such as insufficient withdrawal for sales, delayed withdrawal, incorrect item withdrawal, wrong item delivery, excessive product withdrawal, reordering, and forgetting to reorder. Therefore, Bplus Replenishment is designed to reduce these potential losses, providing assistance in these core tasks, including:

- Calculating the quantity for replenishment automatically based on predefined business conditions, considering appropriate quantities and timing.
- Preventing the delivery of warehouse products that do not match the withdrawal documents.
- Consolidating new boxes to create a packing list for systematic delivery to the storefront.
- Compiling a list of items that the warehouse has insufficient stock for purchase requisition documents.

Automatic replenishment programs are designed to support restocking based on the importance of products, providing convenience, speed, increased sales, and cost reduction. The program calculates the quantities for automatic withdrawal based on the business's specified conditions, allowing for various conditions to be set for replenishment, such as:

- When the sales floor space is available to accommodate the packaging size.
- On the scheduled days, such as every 7 days or every Wednesday, and so on.
- When the quantity of products falls below the specified threshold.
- Replenish equal to the last replenishment – the previous post-replenishment sales.

Bplus POS

enhances customer service efficiency by providing convenient self-service options. It manages and organizes cashier workspaces and areas through a dedicated application.

- Bplus Show Price: An application that displays prices and video advertisements on Android devices at customer service points. This allows customers to choose self-service options or opt for the Windows mode (Option).
- Bplus Check Price on Android: This system allows employees to randomly check prices on smartphones to verify shelf prices. It assists in customer service by providing information if customers inquire, and it can boost sales according to displayed campaigns. It checks the product readiness on the shelf, notifies administrators of adjustments, enhances the efficiency of managing sales spaces, identifies issues, and makes improvements to the quality of the store and branches, ensuring that the products are placed according to the campaigns and the prices displayed at the checkout are accurate and consistent.
- Bplus Queue Buster App on Android: This app is designed to assist cashiers and reduce waiting times at the checkout queue by collaborating with Bplus POS. If a long queue is detected, employees can pull customers for advanced scanning before sending them to the cashier for a Quick Checkout Scan and Go with a QR Code at the checkout point.

Bplus Coffee & Bakery System

ระบบบริหารงานกิจการร้านค้ากาแฟ

Bplus Foods & Restaurant

The system covers the management of various dining establishments such as restaurants, bars, nightclubs, quick-service restaurants, and kiosks.

- Facilitates table opening, closing, bill checking, and customer payments, including cash, credit cards, discount cards, coupons, etc.
- Accepts orders with special food preparation instructions, sending them directly to the kitchen.
- Supports table transfers, combining tables, and table changes.
- Automatically calculates service charges or exemptions.
- Allows separate rates for food and beverages discounts.
- Provides reports on top-selling food items weekly.
- Analyzes peak sales days and times, average sales per day, and per table.
- Integrates with Bplus ERP to calculate costs and initial profits.
